Subject: Local Residents Against Marina Green Restaurant

I live at 475 Marina Blvd...my neighbors and I are very much against the proposed restaurant on Marina Green (FILE #120987)...while one of our local associations appears to be supportive of the restaurant, I have not found one neighbor that is in favor...

Open space (especially on the waterfront) appears to be a priority everywhere else in the city, so why is this space being allowed to be commercialized? Also, why was this project fast tracked without the studies etc that are typically required? As one of my neighbors said recently, you need to notify the block if you want to change out a window, but I guess building a restaurant in a park doesn't warrant a review?

Any sort of night time use for the building is just not appropriate...the community would be much more supportive of a day time use and actually would be most supportive of tearing down the structure all together...

One of the things that is most concerning to my neighbors and I is that we keep on hearing that the community supports this project (in particular that the Marina Community Association supports it) – but believe me, the community does not support it and going forward with the project is shortsighted and allowing development of the waterfront should not be the charter of the Rec & Parks Department.

Regards,
Mike Ackrell

Attention all Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors

GAY RIGHTS OR JUST PLAIN JUSTICE

I believe the people of San Francisco should hold the phone in opposing the possible renaming of San Francisco International Airport (SFO).

However, in my opinion, renaming SFO after Harvey Milk is the worst possible choice. Not only does this bid reek with an odor of politics, a rejection at the polls, risks setting justice back twenty or more years.

When young gays are suffering from bullying, trying to be true to whom they are and the desire to please in many cases, non-accepting parents, something new is needed. Many Blacks who prefer to be silent for reasons of shame associated with being homosexual. Again, someone should step up with a bold statement of acceptance.

Supervisor David Campos deserve credit for a good idea. To rename SFO International after a homosexual would be a bold statement to the whole world especially, when there are about 75 countries where homosexuality is still illegal. And in parts of Africa, they are arguing over homosexuality as a possible death penalty law in Uganda.

Renaming SFO after Harvey Milk comes with baggage that would kill an otherwise great idea. In the last three years, I have discovered four more deserving candidates of the high honor of renaming SFO.

I admit my first choice is a white man who I claim is owed a big thank you by San Francisco. One is a forgotten Black civil rights great. One is a woman and one is not even a U.S. citizen. All qualify to share their names with the spirit of San Francisco International.

For most of my adult life, I have lived ashamed of being a homosexual. It was not because I did not like myself, it was partly because of the way I thought people saw me as less than a man. As a black, crippled, homosexual, I can say I had a happy childhood. However, when I became a teenager it all changed. I even became a bit of a bully myself to hide my confusion and shame of an unkind world view of homosexuality.

In 2010 that all changed when I read the story of Oliver W. Sipple who saved the life of President Gerald R. Ford. I had a vague recollection of the attempted assassination of this sitting U.S. president but I had no idea that the man who was credited with saving the president's life was a homosexual.

Anyone who saved the life of a president should rightfully be honored. But Sipple was dishonored by Harvey Milk, the SF Chronicle and its icon columnist, the late Herb Caen by outing Sipple, a private man, against his wishes. The result; of all places, the city of San Francisco, Sipple's hometown of Detroit Michigan and even his parents turned against him, when news agencies began to report that a homosexual saved the life of the president. I thought why am I ashamed of being a homosexual? ---God does not roll like that. People who dishonor a hero just because he was gay should be ashamed.

My healing process has included learning of more interesting figures. A less familiar civil rights great is Bayard Rustin, a homosexual who organized the 1963 "March on Washington D.C." where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. gave his "I Have a Dream" speech. This man deserves a lot more recognition from many still homophobic Blacks. A released documentary, "Brother Outsider: The Life of Bayard Rustin" demonstrates that Blacks in my opinion would not object to renaming SFO after Rustin.

In 2011 I became aware of Alan Turing a homosexual who saved Britain and more than a million more lives when he broke the Nazi code during World War II. He was also a mathematician and is the father of the computer. However, in 1952 he was arrested in Britain of all places, for being gay and given the choice of prison or chemical castration. ---God does not roll like that. Distraught Turing chose castration and also chose to take his own life two years later.

I also heard of Astronaut Sally Ride and greatly appreciate her quiet dignity.

I can understand why Supervisor David Campos would want to honor a man who inspired him. However, it is clear to me that, Harvey Milk has gotten more than enough respect for what he has done for aspiring gay politicians.

The accomplishments of Sipple, Turing, Rustin and Ride remind me that if we never forget real heroes, we will always have someone to look up to, no matter the race, sex, or sexual orientation. However, with all due respect to Harvey Milk, the renaming of SFO after Milk would only cause many to become lactose intolerant. Who wants that?

New feel good laws against bullying do nothing to a teen who his not only being bullied by others but also him or herself. However, renaming the Embarcadero after a person like Matthew Shepard would offer the strength needed to stand up against tormentors

In parts of Africa that continue to oppress homosexuals in ignorance, work to place the name of Bayard Rustin on the new span of the Bay Bridge. A confused teen with knowledge of Rustin is more likely to think twice before using any bridge to end their life that bared the name of Bayard Rustin. To make a most powerful statement against parents who kicked their children out of the home for "Coming out", rename SFO after Oliver Sipple, a man who was disowned by his own family in spite of his heroics.

None of us can get all that we want. However, the city of San Francisco can make a much stronger statement to the nation and the world when it comes to those who really suffered for being who they are.

This is not an issue of gay rights; this is a matter of plain justice and City Hall needs to hear it loud and clear.

Attention All Members of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors:

Saturday February 2, 2013 City Insider, "Bumpy ride for initiative to add Milk's name to airport"

Campos says "Division? What division?"

Allow me to answer the question posed by Supervisor Campos.

Most people including Supervisor Campos believe that Dan White shot Harvey Milk because he was gay. Not true. Dan White shot and killed Harvey Milk because Milk suggested to then Mayor Moscone, not nominate Dan White to the same seat on the Board of Supervisors that White just resigned from.

Milk might be a gay icon but ask yourself, should any person be honored for having in his or her resume "Outing" a friend in this case Oliver Sipple who saved the life of President Ford in San Francisco for his own political gain? I am not suggesting Milk who outed Sipple against his wishes helped Milk to become the "First openly gay" supervisor. However, it is no secret that politicians are known for using people to get elected.

The proposal to rename SFO can and will get ugly if we dig in our heels. However, recognizing the great opportunity of sending the right message to the world should be debated when we see in the world there is a lot of work to be done.

There are 77 countries that have laws against homosexuality, including the death penalty. Harvey Milk San Francisco International will not change that. Furthermore, the silly comments from San Francisco Archbishop Salvatore Cordieone who recently compared male gay marriage to "Breastfeeding." WHAT? The San Francisco 49er cornerback Chris Culliver recently stated gays were "Not welcome" in their locker room, he has since back off that statement. And the 49er "It gets Better" video where, the players did not recall making the video as encouragement for gays.

Homosexuals have been denied much deserved respect for way too long. However, playing politics to hoist a beloved homosexual with a less than perfect assent will only delay homosexuals all over the world from getting the respect they so rightly deserve.

I have been a homosexual for fifty years. I only recently heard of people like Oliver Sipple who saved the life of President Ford, Bayard Rustin who organized the "March on Washington" D.C. where Dr. King gave his "I Have a Dream" speech and Alan Turing who not only saved Britain but is the father of the computer. Why has it taken me this long to discover these heroes? Disrespect.

If we showed more respect for homosexuals, we would not need to fight so hard and long for "Gay rights."

I am calling on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to alter the proposal made by Supervisor David Campos to rename SFO, to a ballot measure of renaming this international airport after a heroic homosexual in history. And if passed, on a separate ballot in the same election, the people, not Supervisor Campos, would decide which homosexual candidate best describes, not only the spirit of San Francisco but is most deserving of such a high honor to carry a message of respect, via 40 million SFO users a year back home.

As long as there will be people who are different, there will be bullies, no matter how many laws we pass against bullying.

My personal choice for renaming SFO would be Oliver Sipple. However, Bayard Rustin who said the world needs more "Angelic troublemakers" is still waiting for the politicians to heed the call.

SF's treatment of the dog Charlie is unforgiveable and abominable, and the people who have pressed for euthanization should be ashamed. A dog doing what dogs do, in an area set aside for dogs to be off leash, who has never bitten anyone, and who reacts when threatened by a horse? Is it that none of you can admit you were wrong? It's bar the door Katie, right or wrong we're sticking together?

Shame on all of you.

Comments by Robert Green in opposition to item 37, page 1 of 2

~~item~~ - C page

Good day Supervisors.

My name is Robert Green.

I would like to start by saying that I do not own any firearms and that I am not opposed to sensible gun-control legislation; yet I rise today in opposition to item 37.

According to your resolution, so-called "assault weapons" have been used to cause fewer than 400 deaths since 2004. During that same time period, according to the FBI¹, more than 66,000 people were murdered with a firearm of any type.

It would seem, then, that "assault weapons" have accounted for barely more than one-half of 1% of all firearm-related murders since 2004. The number of firearm-related murders continues to decline each year despite the increasing popularity of so-called "assault weapons" like the AR-15.

Your resolution invokes Virginia Tech as a reason to support Senator Feinstein's legislation; however, the 2007 incident there involved two handguns. Only one of them had magazines holding more than 10 rounds. The Virginia Tech review panel concluded that had 10-round magazines been used in both guns, it would not have made much difference.²

You say "weapons of war do not belong on our streets". I say only fully-automatic weapons are "weapons of war", and those are not affected by Senator Feinstein's legislation.

Instead, her legislation would designate semi-automatic firearms as "assault weapons" based primarily on cosmetic and ergonomic characteristics – with the exception of a prohibition on grenade and rocket launchers.

Benelli makes a rifle called the MR1 in two configurations (see page 2); one has a traditional rifle stock, and one has a pistol grip. All of the parts are interchangeable between the two versions. The difference in the way they're held would make one an "assault weapon" while the other would be unencumbered by that designation.

The ergonomics of a firearm does not affect its lethality, and a pistol grip on a semi-automatic firearm can be useful for people with limited strength, mobility, or dexterity.

Finally, there are several typographical errors in the proposed resolution³.

I oppose Senator Feinstein's legislation and I oppose this resolution; and I urge you not to pass it. Thank you.

NOTICE OF PREPARATION OF A DRAFT SUPPLEMENTAL ENVIRONMENTAL DOCUMENT FOR COMMERCIAL HERRING FISHING IN OCEAN WATERS, SCH NO. 98052052

The Fish and Game Commission (Commission) will be the lead agency and the Department of Fish and Wildlife (Department) will prepare a supplemental environmental document for commercial herring fishing in California's ocean waters for the 2013-2014 season. This document supplements the revised environmental document certified by the Commission in August 1998, as well as the Supplemental Environmental Documents certified by the Commission in August 1999 through 2011.

The project to be described is commercial fishing as an element of the Department's Pacific herring management program. The locations of the project are San Francisco Bay, Tomales Bay, Humboldt Bay and Crescent City Harbor (see attachment). Herring are primarily harvested for their roe (eggs) during the months of January through March (spawning season) using small mesh gill nets to take whole fish. In addition, herring eggs on kelp are taken by suspending giant kelp (Macrocystis sp.) from rafts to be spawned upon, then harvesting the kelp with attached eggs. This is commonly referred to as the open pound method. Minor fisheries are also conducted for local human consumption and bait purposes. The existing herring fishery is closely regulated through a catch quota system. Other management options under which the fishery has been conducted and which are available to the Commission include, but are not limited to, a limit on the number of permittees, seasons, gear restrictions, closed fishing areas, and landing and monitoring restrictions.

The project objective is to provide optimal management of the Pacific herring resource for its ecological values and human use. In order to assist the Department in identifying the range of new potential actions, alternatives, mitigation measures, monitoring, and/or significant effects to be analyzed in the supplemental environmental document, the Department is requesting your views as to the scope and content of the environmental information which you feel is germane to the subject program.

Due to the time limits established by State law, your response relative to the scope of the supplemental environmental document must be sent at the earliest possible date, but not later than 30 days after the January 25, 2013, filing date of this notice at the Office of Planning and Research, which will be February 24, 2013.

Please send your response to: Attn: Herring Environmental Document, California Department of Fish and Wildlife, 619 Second Street, Eureka, CA 95501. Your response should include your name, address and daytime telephone number so a representative of the Department can contact you if clarification regarding your input is required.

Certificates of Participation to Fund the Moscone Expansion Project: Economic Impact Report

Office of Economic Analysis
January 30th, 2012

Item #130016

Outline of the Legislation

- The proposed legislation would authorize the City to issue approximately $500 million in Certificates of Participation (COPs) to fund an expansion of the Moscone Convention Center.
- The expansion project would occur during the 2014-19 period.
- The COPs would be backed by the Moscone Center, which is owned by the City, and would be repaid through two sources, over the 2019-2047 period.
 - an assessment on the receipts of hotels in San Francisco, equaling 1.25% of revenues for hotels near the Moscone Center, and 0.3125% in the rest of San Francisco.
 - a General Fund contribution of between $8 million and $10 million per year.

Background

- The Moscone Center is the city's primary means of attracting large conventions to San Francisco. These conventions are a major source of demand for the local tourism industry.
- The SF Travel Association and Jones Lang LaSalle Hotels (JLLH) have conducted market research that suggests San Francisco is at a competitive disadvantage against other cities with larger, more integrated convention facilities.
- Hotels in the city have formed the San Francisco Tourism Improvement District (TID) as a means to assess themselves to invest in facilities that develop the tourism industry in the city.
- The proposed Moscone expansion will be jointly funded by the TID and the City. The TID will benefit from greater demand for hotel rooms from more conventions. The City stands to benefit from owning a more valuable asset, and to the extent there is a positive economic and fiscal impact associated with the expansion.

Economic and Fiscal Impact Factors

- The overall economic impact of the expansion is the combination of both positive and potential negative impacts.
- Positive impacts:
 - Increased construction spending in San Francisco
 - Increases in convention attendees, leading to increased demand for hotel rooms, net increase in visitors, and higher hotel rates.
 - Increased spending associated with net increase in visitors.
 - Potential increase in the value of the City-owned asset and higher fee payments from convention organizers.
- Potential negative impacts:
 - Financing costs: TID assessment costs on hotels
 - Financing costs: opportunity cost of General Fund support
 - Repayment risk to the City

Economic Impact Assessment: Construction and Financing Costs

- Construction and financing costs: The project is expected to cost approximately $500 million, spent between 2014 and 2019.
- It will be funded through the issuance of COPs that will be paid back over a 29-year period beginning in 2019.
- At a conservative assumption of 6% interest, financing costs will equal $35.5 million per year for 29 years, and total amount financed will be roughly double the construction cost. Actual financing costs will depend on market conditions and will likely be less than 6% based on past experience.
- Two-thirds of the financing cost will be borne by the hotels, with one-third falling on the City's General Fund.
- However, the City's General Fund contribution to the financing is equal to what the City currently spends promoting San Francisco through the SF Travel Association. The City's contribution can thus be seen as a continuation of its capital investment in Moscone.

Economic Impact Assessment: New Convention Capacity and Hotel Demand

- Based on JLLH research, convention attendance is expected to increase to 1.207 million per year by 2020-21 without the expansion¹.
- With the expansion, according to JLLH projections, convention attendance will increase to 1.474 million per year²—an increase of 267,000 attendees annually.
- With an average stay of 3.5 days, the expansion would produce an annual increase in demand of 934,500 room-nights.

Economic Impact Assessments: Hotel Capacity, Planned Supply, and Net New Visitors

- More detailed econometric research would be required to precisely estimate how this increase in demand would lead affect hotel revenues, occupancy, and rates. Nevertheless, some impacts are clear given the readily-available data.
- JHHL has reasonably assumed a maximum possible hotel occupancy rate of 87.6%, while PKF Consulting has reported that San Francisco hotels have already achieved an 83% occupancy for 2012 (through November).
- JHHL further notes that the development pipeline for hotels is limited, with just two projects planned in the Moscone area, accounting for only about 250 rooms.
- If these projects were built and existing hotels in the city all reached their maximum feasible capacity, with no other source of growth in the local hotel industry, 65% of new convention demand could be accommodated without displacing other, non-convention-attending, hotel guests.
- This suggest the maximum number of net new hotel guests generated by the Moscone expansion could be 175,000 per year, or 65% of the new convention attendance.

Economic Impact Assessment: New Visitor Spending

- The SF Travel Association produces annual estimates of visitor spending. These estimates do not distinguish between convention attendees and other visitors to San Francisco.
- Based on SF Travel's spending profiles, the up to 175,000 net new visitors will spend a maximum of $180 million per year (in 2011 $), in the following spending categories:
 - Lodging: $61 million
 - Restaurants: $36 million
 - Retail (including exhibitors): $48 million
 - Entertainment: $15 million
 - Transportation: $19 million

Economic Impact Assessment: Rate Impacts and Repayment Risk

- Given the limited capacity of the local hotel industry to absorb the demand that the Moscone expansion will create, hotel rates will likely rise, because of the project, by a greater percentage than the TID assessment.
- Thus, from the perspective of the hotel industry, the expansion project is likely to pay for itself.
- It also suggests that the City's repayment risk associated with the COPs is minimal.

Economic Impact Assessment: REMI Model Analysis

- The Office of Economic Analysis's REMI model of the San Francisco economy was used to estimate the city-wide economic effects of the impacts discussed in this report.
- Specifically, we modeled the impact of:
 - $500 million in construction spending spread over the 2014-19 period.
 - $180 million in annual visitor spending beginning in 2020 until 2045.
 - $0 impact in higher hotel assessment costs, as hotel rate increases from the project should more than offset any negative impact of the assessment on the hotel industry.
 - $8 - $10 million annual reduction in local government spending because of the General Fund support of the project.
- All of these effects create multiplier effects in the local economy which the REMI model calculates and totals.

REMI Model Results

Economic Impacts of the Moscone Expansion Project, 2013-2045

The project can be expected to create an average of 790 jobs during the 2013-2019 construction spending period, peaking in 2017 and 2018 when the bulk of the construction spending is expected to occur.

After completion, the city will have up to an additional 1,240 permanent jobs per year on average from new visitor spending. The job impacts of this new visitor spending will outweigh the negative impact of the General Fund support of the project.

Fiscal Impacts

- The City will also receive fiscal benefits from the economic growth created by the project. Transient Occupancy (Hotel) Tax, Sales Tax, and Business Tax revenue can all be expected to increase.
- In 2019, when completion is complete, the City stands to receive $0.6 million in new business tax revenue, $1.5 million in new sales tax revenue, and $10.9 million in new hotel tax revenue, for a total of $13.0 million. This assumes 3% inflation until 2019, and the accommodation of 175,000 new convention attendees in San Francisco hotels.
- This estimate does not assume any increase in hotel rates due to the capacity limitations in the hotel industry, so the actual hotel tax revenue could be higher than this estimate.
- The $13.0 million in indirect tax revenue exceeds the City's General Fund contribution, and will continue to grow along with inflation into the future.

Conclusions

- The proposed Moscone Expansion project is expected to create an average of 790 jobs during the construction phase, and an average of 1,240 permanent jobs after construction is completed.
- The project will also likely create financial benefits for hotels, in the form of higher rates, that exceed their TID assessment.
- The indirect tax benefits to the City should exceed the City's General Fund contribution in the first full year of operation after the expansion.
- However, the city's fiscal and economic benefits will be limited by the city's inability to expand hotel capacity in line with the expanding capacity of the Moscone Center.
- If hotel capacity could be added more readily, more visitors could be accommodated and the economic and fiscal benefits to the city would be greater.

Subject: Report Issued: GSA: Annual Chapter 14B Audit – One of Three Contractors Fell Short of Its Local Business Enterprise Goal

The Office of the Controller's City Services Auditor Division (CSA) today issued a report on its audit of the San Francisco Administrative Code, Chapter 14B, Local Business Enterprise (LBE) and Non-Discrimination on Contracting Ordinance. The audit found that one of three prime contractors audited did not meet its required LBE subcontracting goal, and the Department of Public Works did not follow up with the prime contractor to obtain every Human Rights Commission (HRC) Form 8 (HRC Exit Report and Affidavit) and inform HRC of the contract's completion so that HRC can properly assess the goal.

Further, required HRC forms were missing, incomplete, or inaccurate for the three prime contractors audited. Besides not complying with Chapter 14B, when contractors do not include all subcontractor payment requests on the HRC Form 7 (HRC Progress Payment Form), payments on the HRC Form 9 (HRC Payment Affidavit), or do not submit Form 8, they deprive departments and CMD from having up-to-date information on the LBE subcontracting goal status.

The Office of the Controller's City Services Auditor Division (CSA) today issued a report on its audit of the internal control structure over the payroll process for San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (SFMTA) transit operators. The audit found that:

- SFMTA's transit operator payroll process lacks effective controls to ensure that unscheduled overtime and other pay types are accurately paid.
- Pay provisions in labor agreements are accurately translated into pay codes in the Trapeze system.
- SFMTA lacks information technology controls over Trapeze to ensure system integrity and security.

Subject: Important issues

Honorable Board of Supervisors,

I have two issues that I would like to bring to your attention. I would appreciate hearing back from any of you, but especially Supervisor Chu in my home District.

1) Recently, I received notice by the SF Dept. of Public Works, that my rental property at 470 Broadway Street needed to have the sidewalk replaced. After a great deal of research and obtaining estimates and bids, I finally chose a contractor. We then went about the process of setting dates and methods of pouring on two separate days, so as not to affect the business operated by the tenant. We pulled the appropriate permits and ordered the concrete. We were 12 hours away from spending $15,000 on this project, when (BY ABSOLUTE CHANCE) we ran into another resident on that street who told us that he had heard a rumor that the sidewalks on the 400 block of Broadway Street are scheduled to be torn up and replaced as part of a "Streetscape Grant Project" in May. In essence, the City had ordered me to replace a sidewalk at great cost, that was going to be torn back up 4 months later and replaced. The City cannot run with this sort of incompetence and do this to it's property owners and residents! If I had spent the $15,000 on the project (that was then torn up), I'm sure the City was not going to be willing to refund my cost. I contacted the DPW inspector (who was very nice and helpful), but he knew nothing of the project. I left 3 messages with the Streetscape project manager, and she didn't return any of my calls. I finally met with the Engineer who is responsible for the grant project, and he knew nothing of any other DPW business in the area. The City has to do a better job of coordinating projects. Asking a blue-collar guy to throw $15,000 down the toilet is unacceptable. Right now, I am in the process of trying to get my permit fees returned from the City.....if any of you want to help me with this bureaucracy, I would be very grateful.

2) On a completely unrelated topic.....several years ago the citizens voted to issue bonds to rebuild some of our neighborhood park infrastructures. I was thrilled when the measure passed, as my family is very active and (almost daily) utilizes the parks, tennis courts, softball diamonds, etc. However, I'm left speechless in the design of some of the bathrooms that are being built. Yesterday I was running on the Marina Green and wanted to use the brand-new restroom on the green at the corner of Jefferson and Marina. The men's room is designed such that while at the urinal, you are in full public view of everyone outside. Several of the park's bathrooms are now like this. I'm not a modest guy and really couldn't care less if people see me peeing at a urinal.....but it is holey unacceptable for the children who were playing immediately outside, the elderly, or the tourists, etc. to be exposed to this. I read in the paper that (starting today) running around the City naked will

Subject: TIC-Condo Conversions

Supervisors and Editor,

When we decided to move back to the city ten years ago, we looked at a number of TICs (tenants-in-common) while house-hunting. All were owner-occupied by young couples with young children. They were stuck with joint mortgages with the other owner(s)/occupier(s) – loans generally with higher interest rates than for condos. These are the young folks the city wants to keep in SF – but will not let them fully pursue the American dream of homeownership. Can someone please tell me just why the tenants' union has an iron in this fire? By the way, a $20,000 conversion fee is awfully steep for young families with kids. And, oh yeah, we bought a condo in North Beach.

2013 JAN 31 PM 2:23

Please allow me to introduce myself. I am Donna Hall and the cute young man with me is my grandson, Casey. This month, I have been putting together photo albums of our trips in 2012. As you can tell from the photographs, I have a story to tell. Please don't think of me as an old fashioned prude or some hysterical grandma! I have mulled this over, so here goes...

Our trip to San Francisco was in June of 2012, when the U.S. Open was in town. The whole city was electrified! People were everywhere, the weather was great, and touring with Casey was great! He turned 12, and we thought he would have a good time. And he did. My husband and I have been many times, and have fallen in LOVE with your city.

We had taken in Fisherman's Wharf and we were leaving Pier 39 when the nude people on bicycles came riding thru the smack dab middle of the walkway outside of Pier 39! They were ringing little bells, and every part of their bodies were hanging loose! There was complete shock, and many people were yelling at them.... And there were hundreds and hundreds of children fully exposed to all of this! When they had rode off, to where ever nude people ride to, people were talking, a whole lot... Here are some of the comments.

1. Well, we heard the police were turning a blind eye, now we believe it!

2. Oh well, what the hell, what did we expect, we're in San Francisco.....

3. From a lady whose husband was on the committee that makes decisions for which cities to hold the U.S. Open. She said to a crowd of people, "If I get a chance to influence any decision for San Francisco to host the U.S. Open again, it won't happen."

4. Someone said they heard from a tour guide, that the police had actually given these people a permit to ride around the city! That the police chief has lost all control of civility in the city. (This was a warning given by a tour guide for parents to shield small children in case the tour bus crossed paths with the nude group.)

I can go on and on, but you get the drift. We really don't know why these people were compelled to do this, but we suspect it was for some kind of way to spit in the eyes of society and civil laws, to protest something. We heard rumors all around town while we were there, but it really made no difference, once you hear the perspective from a 12 year boy who witnessed it all.

We tried to explain to him, how Americans have the right to protest, lawfully, anything they want to protest.

He said to us, "But Americans protest with their clothes on, this is just wrong, wrong...!" "Don't they know that people will know this is wrong, that it will make other American's mad, and not even listen to them?" I couldn't have said it better, He is a new generation, who will be influenced many times by politics and protests. (He even saw a protest at a downtown hotel by union employees one morning while we went walking.) He was in complete dismay and disbelief that there were no police anywhere around and no attempts made to stop these people. He made the comment after thinking it over a few days, "If these people are allowed to get away with this, what else will the policemen let them and anyone else do?"

In other adult words, Mr. + Mrs. San Francisco, if it starts getting out of hand, be prepared for a protest from us, the TOURISTS! Word spreads fast, fast, fast these days. Even when it is trying to be hidden by the local media not reporting on the disgust that day.

Where are the city leaders on this? Where are the Chamber of Commerce leaders on this? Where is law enforcement on this? There needs to be a BIG POW WOW with the nudies on wheels, before the slow erosion of civility and good ole' common sense bites away at the heart and soul of San Francisco,....

Just some observations and opinions from one who speaks for thousands who saw it all.

Respectfully,
Donna Hall
Whitney, Texas

Hello.

This email is to let you know that the Notice of Preparation for the Caltrain Electrification Project was issued yesterday, January 31, 2013.

The project would electrify the Peninsula Corridor from San Francisco's 4th and King Caltrain Station to approximately the Tamien Caltrain Station, convert diesel-hauled to Electric Multiple Unit trains, and increase service by one train per peak hour, to six Caltrain trains per peak hour, per direction, by 2019.

While the electrification project itself does not include high speed rail service, the EIR cumulative analysis will conceptually evaluate future blended service of Caltrain and high-speed rail on the Caltrain Peninsula Corridor.

RE: Youth Commission Mid Year Report
Legislative, Policy & Programmatic Work, Third Staff Position

This memo is to update you on the business of the Youth Commission (YC) during the past 4 months.

Overview

Between our last report dated October 9, 2012 and today, the YC has met as a full body 6 times. (Tonight we will have another regularly scheduled meeting.) The Commission's five standing committees have met the following number of instances: Executive, 6; Education, 4; Employment, 5; Housing, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Questioning (LGBTQ) and Transitional Age Youth (TAY) Issues, 3; and Justice, 5.

In this same span of time, the YC has adopted some 6 resolutions and responded to one piece of legislation referred from the Board of Supervisors (BOS). The YC has recruited and hired, moreover, a full time Coordinator of Community Outreach and Civic Engagement, increasing our staff capacity to three full time equivalent (FTE) positions.

Legislative & Policy Work

Most notably, the past four months have witnessed the culmination of some three years of YC work on transit accessibility. On December 4, 2012, the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency Board of Directors (SFMTAB) approved the final funding allocation necessary to begin a program of free rides for low- and moderate-income young people. A 15 month pilot program for eligible youth aged 5-17 years will begin on March 1, 2013, three years and one month to the day after the YC first adopted a resolution calling on the SFMTAB to create a discounted fast pass for low-income young people, which resulted in the creation of the Youth Lifeline fast pass—the budget for which, in turn, is being leveraged to help finance the current pilot program.

In the past four months, the YC has provided comment on a single piece of legislation referred from the BOS. On October 15, 2012, the YC voted to support a proposed $3 million supplemental appropriation from State Reserves to fund credit recovery programs in the San Francisco Unified School District (SFUSD).

The 6 resolutions adopted by the YC these past months have addressed a range of concerns, of which here we will underscore a pair. Most recently, the YC adopted a resolution calling on the City and the SFUSD to evaluate the effectiveness of the credit recovery programs that have been at the center of the recent legislative debates on various supplemental appropriations for the school district (including the State Reserves item mentioned above). While it is critical for the City and SFUSD to do all that is possible to ensure the timely graduation of the 45% of public school seniors who are currently off-track, the YC contends it is just as important to simultaneously evaluate the relative effectiveness and accessibility of the mechanisms we are employing to ensure on-time graduation.

The YC also recently adopted a resolution commending Mayor Lee and the BOS for creating the youth workforce development program Summer Jobs+ year year. This resolution calls on the City to continue the Summer Jobs+ in the current year and to make specific programmatic changes in response the challenges of last year. In particular, the YC urges the City both to target the program towards young people who are especially disconnected from education and employment (and who have other barriers to employment like homelessness and involvement in the criminal justice system) outreach and recruitment and to better track the demographics of program participants.

Programmatic Work

A regional policy summit convening representatives of some 22 youth commissions from across the Bay Area; the fourth annual Youth Advocacy Day, which brings hundreds of San Francisco high school students to City Hall for a day of meetings and civic education with elected and appointed officials; a Youth of the Year Award recognizing youth leaders from each supervisorial district in San Francisco; and a two-day retreat featuring workshops on the municipal budget process and resolution writing for some 40-odd youth commissioners and SFUSD Student Advisory Council members—these are four of the most important events and activities which the YC has either hosted or been planning in the past months.

Third Staff Position: Coordinator of Community Outreach and Civic Engagement

After a robust recruitment and interview process in the fall that garnered well over 100 applicants, last month the YC hired a new Coordinator of Community Outreach and Civic Engagement. This third staff position will improve the policy recommendations YC provides the Mayor and the BOS by ensuring these recommendations result from a thorough, community-driven process with established criteria. Our new hire will also be central to helping the YC execute our Charter-mandated duty of “identify[ing] the unmet needs of [San Francisco's youth] through personal contact” and “hold[ing] public forums.” She will formalize and expand our civic engagement program, too.

Our new hire, Ms. Adele Carpenter, comes to the YC with an impressive professional background in youth leadership development and policy campaigns, as well as an educational resume germane to her role with us, including a Master's in sociocultural anthropology with a focus on applied advocacy research. Please note that while we have brought Ms. Carpenter on board on a temporary requisition, in view of the YC's historic level of staffing at 3 FTE's and the YC's current volume of work, we hope the Mayor and the BOS will agree to making this position permanent in the next fiscal year. Please expect to hear from me to set up meetings about this matter, among others, in the coming weeks.

Questions

If you have questions about anything related to the YC, please don't hesitate to contact me: (415) 554-6254. Thank you.
