Section 1. Findings.

The Board of Supervisors finds as follows:

1. The Nonprofit Performing Arts Loan Program (NPALP) was established by the Board of Supervisors in 1984. Since that time many economic and political changes have occurred in the external environment affecting the arts.

2. Almost $2.3 million has been loaned over the 20-year life of the NPALP, enabling capital acquisition or improvements to 17 small to midsize theaters or performance spaces.
3. The NPALP borrowers have universally considered the NPALP loans a success in that the loans have enabled the borrowers to present more productions, serve more audience members, and employ more San Francisco performing artists in code-compliant facilities. However, 80 percent of these loans are in arrears, suggesting that the City should reassess the program.

4. In August 2003, the consulting firm MacDougall & Co. prepared a program assessment of NPALP and recommended that the City renegotiate the loan agreements in order to assure that the loans were not a hardship to the borrowers, while still requiring the borrowers to be accountable for their use of scarce City dollars.

5. The Mayor's Office of Housing does not currently have the optimal level of expertise regarding performing arts spaces or arts organizations to continue to operate this program.

6. Grants for the Arts, which has annual funding agreements with all but one of the current borrowers is the City agency best equipped to continue this program and has the expertise to do so based on the following:

   a) Grants for the Arts has, over the past decade, initiated capital programs enabling arts organizations to acquire or renovate space totaling $1.5 million;

   b) Grants for the Arts advises two nonprofit loan/grant programs on capital needs of arts organizations: the Northern California Community Loan Fund, and the Nonprofit Finance Fund; and

   c) Grants for the Arts has supplemented the NPALP program over the years, more than doubling the initial City subsidy of $500,000;
7. In light of the above, the Board of Supervisors hereby finds that the following legislative changes are necessary to modify the administration of the NPALP in order to make the program more effective.

Section 2. The San Francisco Administrative Code is hereby amended by amending Sections 50.2, 50.10, 50.11 and 50.21 to read as follows:

In administering this loan program, the Director shall give priority to this intent and shall insure that sufficient funds are available to achieve this purpose.
