Join Upwardly Global for a public board meeting to learn about our efforts to support the revitalization of communities through our partnerships with local organizations. We will share how these organizations contribute to their communities and support our immigrant, refugee, and asylee community.

We will be hosting a panel discussion that will focus on how immigrants, refugees, and asylees contribute to their communities — creating positive economic value, through their participation in the workforce, and contributing to their local economy. In this discussion you will hear how Upwardly Global works alongside these workforce partners to deliver tailored career resources to immigrant, refugee, and asylee professionals and unleash their potential to secure skill-aligned careers and fully contribute.

Register for Upwardly Global’s public meeting to learn more about how immigrants, refugees, and asylees are revitalizing communities and how we can build and strengthen these partnerships with local organizations so more communities can thrive. We hope to see you there!
