Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

Section 1. Background and Findings.

(a) Administrative Code Section 14.3(f)(2) requires employers to report annually on health care expenditures pursuant to the San Francisco Health Care Security Ordinance (“HCSO”), which requires employers to make minimum health care expenditures for employees in San Francisco. Police Code Section 4910(b) requires employers to report annually on compliance with the San Francisco Fair Chance Ordinance (“FCO”), which restricts how employers may consider applicants’ and employees’ arrest and conviction records and related information.

(b) In 2018, by Ordinance No. 54-18, the City expanded the FCO to cover all employers with five or more employees, from 20 or more employees previously, more than doubling the number of employers required to report on their compliance. These newly-covered employers were to be subject to the FCO’s annual reporting requirements for the first time in April 2020, reporting on calendar year 2019.

(c) On March 23, 2020, in response to extensive business closures related to the COVID-19 pandemic, Mayor Breed issued the Fifth Supplement to Mayoral Proclamation Declaring the Existence of a Local Emergency, which, as relevant here, waived the calendar year 2019 reporting requirements under both the HCSO and FCO. As a result, thousands of San Francisco employers – those newly required to report by the 2018 FCO amendment – have yet to participate in the annual reporting process.

(d) Compiling and preparing these reports can be administratively difficult for employers, placing an additional burden on employers at a time of significant economic strain and uncertainty. Further, many businesses incurred periodic closures, and attendant furloughs and layoffs, in 2020 that may complicate analysis of their payroll and health care expenditure records. Some employers may need to engage in travel to their places of business to access the necessary information, risking spread of COVID-19.

(e) The majority of the staff of the Office of Labor Standards Enforcement (OLSE) continues to work remotely for their own safety to reduce the spread of COVID-19 during the ongoing pandemic. OLSE typically receives more than 1000 telephone calls a year related to the annual reporting requirements for HCSO and FCO compliance. These calls are likely to increase substantially with many employers newly subject to the FCO reporting requirement. It would be challenging for OLSE staff to accommodate this volume of calls while working remotely.

(f) This ordinance is intended to reduce the administrative burden on employers and by waiving these reporting requirements for 2020 health care expenditures and Fair Chance Ordinance compliance. Further, for clarity, it codifies the waiver of these reporting requirements for 2019.
(g) This ordinance maintains all other employer requirements under the Health Care Security Ordinance and the Fair Chance Ordinance. It addresses the reporting requirements only, and only to the extent addressed by the ordinance.

with this Chapter, but OLSE may not require an Employer to provide information in violation of State or federal privacy laws. In the event the information required by OLSE is comingled with information protected by privacy laws, the Employer shall redact the private information. If a Covered Employer uses a Revocable Expenditure to satisfy its obligation to make Required

OLSE any conditions or restrictions on the Covered Employee’s use of the expenditure, and the condition or conditions that permit any portion of the expenditure to be revoked by or
