20 WHEREAS, Universal early care and education is essential for economic development, 21 economic justice, gender equity, closing the education gap, addressing poverty and income 22 inequity; and

23 WHEREAS, The voters of San Francisco passed Proposition “Baby C” in 2018 to 24 achieve the goal of universal early care and education by establishing the Early Care and 25 Education for All Initiative by ensuring fair compensation for the early care and education

1 workforce, subsidizing child care for families under 85% of the State Median Income, and 2 expanding early care and education subsidies to families with children under the age of 4 up
3 to 200% of the Area Median Income (AMI); and providing investment to support children 4 under the age of six; and

5 WHEREAS, Since funding was made available through the Early Care and Education
6 for All Initiative, San Francisco invested over $46 million in increased wages for early care 7 educators and developed a plan to expand workforce investments; and

8 WHEREAS, The newly formed Department of Early Childhood (DEC) developed a 9 Strategic Plan that centered solving the racial gap in access to early education and its 10 subsequent impacts on enhancing educational outcomes for children; and

11 WHEREAS, San Francisco successfully cleared the waitlist for subsidized early care 12 and education slots for low-income families with children ages 3-5; and

13 WHEREAS, Despite many of these achievements, there remains a growing unmet 14 need for child care especially for infants and toddlers; and

15 WHEREAS, According to the latest Child Care Needs Assessment, there is a 44.8% 16 unmet need if every family with a child under 5 desired a slot and that gap is even more stark 17 for infants and toddlers with an 83.4% unmet need; and

18 WHEREAS, One of the driving economic factors for workers is the need for accessible, 19 quality child care particularly for working women with a national study that found that 46% of 20 women who quit their jobs in 2021 said it was because they did not have adequate child care; 21 and

22 WHEREAS, In 2021, San Francisco's Economic Recovery Working Group included a 23 recommendation to expand the income eligibility for Early Learning Scholarships as a way to 24 support rebuilding the local economy after the pandemic; and

1           WHEREAS, A recent study by the Department of Status of Women of female Police
2 Department employees cited that child care was one of the most important potential benefits 3 for recruitment and retention; and

4           WHEREAS, Child care is essential for workers of the City and County of San 5 Francisco, particularly in departments that have a staffing shortage, such as the Police
6 Department, first responders, and nurses who also need more flexible options and 24/7 child 7 care; and

8           WHEREAS, The City agreed 17 years ago to build a child care facility at the new San 9 Francisco General Hospital site and has still not fulfilled this commitment despite an arbitrator 10 ruling that the City denied its contractual obligations; and

11           WHEREAS, On a national level, employers are stepping up to provide child care 12 subsidies as a way to retain their workforce as it has shown that increased access to quality 13 early care and education supports economic gains through increased worker productivity and 14 less turnover; and

15           WHEREAS, Child care is an important component of any potential downtown recovery 16 as having child care nearby would facilitate in person work; and

17           WHEREAS, There are opportunities to build more child care facilities in vacant 18 commercial properties and underutilized sites within existing educational institutions such as 19 the San Francisco Unified School District; and

20           WHEREAS, The long-term sustainability of the early care and education workforce is a 21 critical component to support the expansion of a universal care system, but is challenged by 22 historically lower wages and the lack of benefits; and

23           WHEREAS, There has been a notable increase in the number of young children
24 experiencing learning challenges, which require IEP (individualized education programs), 25 additional attention, and support; now, therefore, be it

1 RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors urges the Department of Early Childhood

21 FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors urges the Department of Early

1 FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors urges the Department of Early

8 early care and education sites; and, be it

9 FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors urges the Department of Early 10 Childhood to work with State representatives and Labor to explore how best to provide 11 healthcare coverage and retirement benefits to sustain and retain the early care educator
12 workforce; and, be it

13 FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors urges the Department of Early 14 Childhood to offer technical expertise and resources to early care and education sites in need 15 of specialized teaching support, including exploring models for multi-disciplinary teams to
