10 WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors adopted the 10-Year Capital Plan on May 19, 11 2023, which included a commitment to scheduling a 2024 Affordable Housing Bond for 12 consideration by the voters, in light of the pressing mandate from the State to build 46,000
13 new homes affordable to very low-, low- and moderate-income residents over the next eight 14 years, a category of housing demand that San Francisco has struggled to meet for years 15 given the lack of dedicated funding for affordable housing; and

16 WHEREAS, On July 7, 2023, a half-day work retreat to strategize solutions to women's 17 homelessness was convened by the Board President, the Women's Housing Coalition, 18 philanthropic and non-profit partners, and City agencies, including the Mayor's Office of 19 Housing and Community Development (MOHCD), Department of Homelessness and 20 Supportive Housing (HSH), Department of Public Health (DPH), City Attorney's Office, District 21 Attorney's Office, Sheriff's Office, District Attorney's Office, Department on the Status of 22 Women (DOSW), Adult Probation, and more; and

23 WHEREAS, One of the top consensus action items to come out of the July 7, 2023 24 work retreat was a commitment to piloting a gender-based housing project or project(s) that 25 would demonstrate that the City could model stable and safe longer-term transitional and

1 permanent affordable housing for women and women-identified San Franciscans, and plans 2 began in earnest to collaboratively move this strategy forward, including private fundraising 3 efforts; and

4 WHEREAS, The Mayor and Board of Supervisors duly placed Proposition A: Affordable 5 Housing Bond on the March 5, 2024 ballot, with $30 million dedicated to build, buy or 6 rehabilitate housing for survivors of gender-based domestic violence, sexual abuse and 7 assault, human trafficking or street violence, a first for San Francisco, and it was embraced by 8 the voters of San Francisco by a 70.38% vote; and

9 WHEREAS, The City and County of San Francisco will likely also have an opportunity 10 in November of 2024 to help pass another affordable housing bond, proposed by the regional 11 Bay Area Housing Finance Authority (BAHFA), which could generate up to $20 billion of 12 affordable housing funding for the Bay Area, with San Francisco already preparing an 13 Expenditure Plan to outline the City's vision for building, acquiring, converting, and 14 rehabilitating affordable housing to meet its State-mandated goals; and

15 WHEREAS, Before voters approve another affordable housing bond, it is critical that 16 the City demonstrate it has a plan for spending its local commitment, and continue its 17 collaborative work with the affordable housing community to document clear criteria for timely
18 issuance of Notices of Funding Availability (NOFA) and a clear vision and plan for public 19 dollars; now, therefore, be it

20 RESOLVED, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco
21 urges the Mayors Office of Housing and Community Development to continue its collaborative 22 process with stakeholders with increased urgency and clarity, including releasing NOFA's with 23 information on funding availability to build, buy or rehabilitate housing for survivors of gender-24 based domestic violence, sexual abuse and assault, human trafficking or street violence in the 25

1 furtherance of the City's and voters' shared goal of housing women in crisis as soon as 2 possible.
